International Membership

The International Association of Workforce Professionals (IAWP) is a nonprofit educational association representing 13,000 professionals worldwide who work in public and private workforce development programs. The IAWP is dedicated to employee career development and education, research, professionalism, legislative action, and the furthering of the goals and objectives of the workforce industry.

Legislation: In Washington, the IAWP tracks and lobbies any legislation that affects the workforce programs. Legislative updates and other information are posted on the IAWP website, www.iawponline.org

Education: The Certified Workforce Professional Certification Program is one of the many educational opportunities offered through IAWP.

Publications: As an International member you will receive the Workforce Professional, which is published six times per year. This publication provides practical information that can be used in your daily work life. There are regular sections relating to Everyday HR, SkillShop, Workforce Resources, and What Works: Best Practices in Workforce Development.

Scholarships: The IAWP has scholarships available for full members and their dependents who wish to increase their knowledge, skills and abilities in the area of leadership or workforce development.

Networking: The International Training Conference is held annually, usually in June. The IAWP has two networking medias; LinkedIn and Facebook.

ND State Membership

All Job Service employees are invited to join the IAWP either as an International member or a State member.

Education: The ND Chapter in conjunction with Job Service North Dakota offers quarterly two day Leadership Development training at no charge. The state chapter also hosts monthly Lunch n' Learns, where members are encouraged to bring their lunch and a presenter provides professional or personal development information.

Networking: Once a year, the chapter hosts a conference, either alone or in conjunction with the Governor's Workforce Summit. This conference provides you an opportunity to increase your knowledge of the workforce industry, participate in workforce development panels, and meet others in your chosen profession.

ND IAWP—staying “on top” of the country's workforce issues.
